

Beginning Ceramics*: Wednesday, 6:30 – 8:30pm

Beginning Ceramics is an introduction to clay. We will learn a variety of hand forming techniques and “throwing” clay on a potters wheel. This class is geared to those with no prior clay experience or who have not yet mastered centering clay on the wheel. This class is also appropriate for those who would like to continue to learn more advanced shaping and hand building techniques, but do not feel ready for the continuing class.

Beginning Ceramics*: Thursday, 6:30 – 8:30pm

Same as above. When signing up for Beginning ceramics, if your class nights are flexible, please indicate 1st and 2nd choices. Being flexible with your nights increases your chances of landing a space in class.

Continuing Ceramics: Tuesdays, 6:30 – 8:30pm

Students with a solid mastery of centering skills are invited to further develop their clay skills shaping handles, spouts, lids, and more advanced forms.

DURATION: 8 week course per session, Check the 2016 Calendar of classes

REGISTRATION FEE: Class fee is $290. Included in the registration fee are a 25lb bag of recycled clay (if available- if unavailable a $10 credit towards other clay), glazes, firings and an additional 8 hours per week of open studio access. Ceramic tools may be purchased on the first day of class ($18) and additional clay must be purchased from the studio if desired. (Cost of additional clay includes related glaze and firing costs). *Outside material is not allowed.

REGISTRATION: Registration can be done by filling out a printed registration form then delivering or mailing it with a check or money order to sfclayworks at: 2240 Palou Avenue, San Francisco, CA 94124. Attendance to your first class is mandatory, as we will be informing everyone about how the studio space operates.
